School Community Honors Servicemen

Members of Millbury High School's History Club, under the guidance of advisor Roger Desrosiers, organized a tribute on January 15 to area servicemen serving in the Middle East. Participants included family members (above), clergy, school personnel, and the school band.

Family members were presented with plaques to place on a wall in the foyer of the High School. The wall is covered with a map of the Middle East and is surrounded by the names of area servicemen. Lisa Devine, wife of 2nd Lieutenant Thomas A. Devine, points to her husband's plaque. She is joined by her husband's brother, Peter. Tom and Peter are the sons of Robert and Leah Devine of Millbury.

Elizabeth Belanger, grandmother of Paul Prus, places her grandson's plaque next to his name on the wall. Prus is a Corporal in the United States Marine Corps.

A Slice of Life

MILLBURY - What's better than a piece of pizza being fed to you by your dad? If you ask Ashley Festa, she's sure to reply, "Hugging your dad when you're all through." Ashley and her father, Ron Festa, joined other area Girl Scouts and their fathers at a Father/Daughter Pizza Party on January 16 at the Shaw School. Ashley is a member of Brownie Troop 291.

Outstanding Teachers

MILLBURY - The Charles F. Minney Post V.F.W. Post 3329 and its Ladies Auxiliary held its seventh annual Teachers Award Ceremony and Banquet on January 19. Award winners were as follows: Karen Canali, Elmwood Street School; Janice Dawson, Shaw Elementary School; David Wilbur, Junior/Senior High School; Susan Hoar and Robert Cournoyer, Blackstone Valley Tech.

Raymond Chasse, Chairman of the Banquet Committee; Roseanna Labelle, co-chair of the Women's Auxiliary; Lucille Lamontagne, President of the Auxiliary; Armand DeSorcy, banquet committee member; Susan Hoar, Robert Cournoyer, Janice Dawson, Dave Wilbur, Karen Canali, award recipients; Dick Cabrello, committee member; and Beverly Little, co-chair of the Auxiliary.

Get Out The Yellow Ribbons

The tension produced by the fear of impending war was clearly evident on the somber faces of family members gathered at Millbury High School on January 15. The occasion was a tribute to local servicemen that was organized by members of Millbury High School's History Club. The program was designed to show the school community's concern for those stationed in the Persian Gulf and to provide families with the knowledge that they do not stand alone in their agonizing vigil.

And stand alone they do not. For who among us cannot sympathize with the mother who speaks with tears coursing down her cheeks as she tries to describe her last communication with her son? Are any of us so stoic that we do not feel the need to reach out to the father whose voice trembles as he expresses his pride in his son's willingness to stand up and fight to achieve his country's objectives. Do any of us who saw the tortured faces of those soldiers who have been taken Prisoners of War not feel a portion of their anguish?

The commendable efforts of the History Club sends a strong message to our service men and women - WE CARE ABOUT YOU! It is a message that should be carried out in our churches, on our streets, in our places of work, in our homes. Let us see an unprecedented show of yellow ribbons on our trees, on our lampposts, wherever they can send a message that our community stands behind its men and women at war - not because we support the administration's decision to go to war, but because we support those men and women who have placed their lives on the line for all of us.

It's Not Us!!!!

The recent publication of the purchase of a building at the Millbury Industrial Park by the Chronicle Publishing Co. has sparked rumors that the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle is moving. The Chronicle Publishing Co. of San Francisco owns the Telegram & Gazette and is in no way connected to the Millbury-Sutton Chronicle.

Thank You

To the Editor:

As we reflect upon the year 1990, my family and I agree that, although it was a very busy period of our lives, it was also most gratifying. We are most thankful and proud of all who worked on my campaign, not only for their effort, but also for the outstanding manner in which they presented themselves on behalf of our campaign.

It was wonderful to see a large voter turnout in November. We thank all who participated in the election, especially those who supported me and helped us win two of the three towns in the district during a time when 90% of state representatives were re-elected.

The Registrars and Town Clerks in the district are to be complimented for their efforts during the election and the recount that followed. They made a difficult situation most bearable for the candidates and their supporters.

The media in the area should also be recognized for the fine job they did in creating voter awareness that will, hopefully, continue during the difficult times that lie ahead.

To all the people in Auburn, Millbury and Oxford, I offer a sincere THANK YOU, and in the words of Abraham Lincoln, "I can only say that I have acted upon my best convictions, without selfishness or malice, and by the help of God I shall continue to do so."

Another Point of View

After the War is Over?

By Lawrence Moore

As this is written during the first day of the Gulf War, everything seen, heard and read points to a "successful" achievement of the stated objective. Euphoria, however, is premature. The tide of war will ebb and flow. Victory, when it comes, will have been paid for dearly by both sides.

Much is being said about the components of the military effort: brilliant strategic planning, effective international cooperation, hoped-for performance of hi-tech war materials, superb coordination of land, sea and air forces, outstanding intelligence gathering and use, exemplary execution by men and women, and an unprecedented almost worldwide agreement on the nature of the problem, and on the steps to be taken to alleviate the problem.

Are we, as civilized people, able to rally such remarkable effort only in the pursuit of war? Is war an outlet for our inability to solve the problems of living? Is war making the only activity to which we can devote our research and development genius?

When the Gulf operation is over, will we, as we have in the past, fall into a world-wide depression because we have no use for the men and machines of war? Or will world leaders devote their considerable talents to the analysis and elimination of "quality-of-life" and, yes, "life-itself" threats to our future?

We have, at the end of the 20th Century, evolved into a global society living on borrowed time. Progress has not been without cost, cost to people and to our planet. And as yet, we have not taken decisive steps to address our problems. We patch and cover up, substituting one problem for another. We "band-aid" when we need surgery. Even our "band-aids" are complained about before they are applied. Read the complaints and criticisms about the "Clean Air Act." Our "energy policy" has been whip-sawed almost to death, even though it doesn't get to the root of the problem. We talk about higher MPG for cars, about alternate fuels, about conservation, about stretching out our finite oil supply, about increasing oil recovery, opening new drilling sites, revamping nuclear licensing procedures and more "band-aids." There is not sufficient allocation of money and effort to achieve what we must: eventual freedom from dependence on fossil fuels.

In a January 16 newspaper ad, Mobil Corporation stated "rewarding shareholders is our bottom line." Their entire "foundation for the future" is based on financial progress. They, and so many companies and governments, unfortunately seem to have little faith in a long-term future! They say "energy is essential" but do nothing to become an energy company when fossil fuels are gone!

Energy is only one of our many domestic tragedies. Our financial institutions are in trouble. Day by day we are losing status to Japan, Germany and now other developing countries. We have more people per capita in jail than any other country. Our education system is not functioning. Instead of fighting crime we fight criminals.

In short, the United States needs, and the World needs, the kind of analysis, planning and execution for the 21st Century that we proved able to do for the Gulf war. This we must do, if we are to live and prosper "after the war is over."

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Grafton Street Residents Ask for Sidewalk

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - At their January 14 meeting, the Selectmen met with Fire Chief Tom Nault to discuss funding for pensions for the Fire Department and a proposed mutual aid arrangement with the Worcester Fire Department for responses to any hazardous waste spills that might occur in town.

In the matter relating to pension liability, Nault reported that there was not enough money in the budget to pay for a bill of an excess of $30,000 that was due July 1, 1991. He said by holding off the payment, that amount has been reduced to $25,000 as two firefighters are anticipating retirement, thus reducing the amount of the liability.

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase noted that there is only about $9,000 left in the insurance account and it was expected that other bills for Workmen's Compensation coming in would deplete that amount.

The board voted to approve a request that a transfer of $25,000 be presented to the Finance Committee (FinCom).

Nault then presented the board with a proposal which would create an arrangement with the Worcester Fire Department for a response of men and a truck to assist in handling any hazardous material spills that may occur in Millbury. He said it would be cheaper and more cost effective to move into an agreement with Worcester than to establish a town response system that he estimated would cost $250,000.

Nault also said there would be no funding commitment for Millbury as well as no liability to Worcester if injuries result from a call as already specified in the present mutual aid arrangement in force.

Nault said other contiguous towns to Worcester are also interested in the same arrangement and are pursuing the matter with their selectmen. Millbury's board of Fire Engineers supports the project.

Lachance asked who would be in charge under such an arrangement. Nault said the Fire Chief in Millbury if the event occurs in Millbury.

Lachance asked what the budget would be to run the hazardous spill response team. Nault said that the Worcester Fire Chief has developed a needs list but is hesitant to publish it until there is some commitment expressed by interested towns. Nault said that monies could be solicited from local businesses if necessary, especially those that may be affected by a spill.

The board unanimously approved Nault's request for their support to pursue the arrangement with Worcester.

Moment of Silence

Following a brief executive session, Lachance led the board in a moment of silence for all the armed forces serving in the Middle East and throughout the world.

Police Department Budget

The board approved the forwarding of the proposed budget for the police department, as submitted by Police Chief Ron Stokowski, to FinCom for review and approval.

Stokowski reported that the department's computer is not working, and said FinCom will send some members who are knowledgeable in computers to assist in trying to get some use out of the system. He said $5,000 would be required for new hardware and software and some of that would come from a grant he has applied for.

Stokowski reported that there is an increase in the salary account of 5.5% for patrolmen and 6% for other employees, clerical and dispatchers, as contracted. The total budget for salaries, as proposed, is $658,552.82.

Bleau asked about the $75,000 in the overtime account proposed for next year. Stokowski said that $28,000 of this year's $46,5000 has already been spent. He said the cost reflects vacations, sick time, and training costs for new dispatchers.

The total budget is up 6.4% over last year's budget.

Pole Location

A public hearing was held on a request from New England Telephone and Mass. Electric for the elimination of a pole on Braney Road and the placement of two poles on the westerly side of Braney Road. The request was tabled to allow New England Telephone representative Matt Early to contact Mass. Electric for an on-site meeting with resident William Walsh. Walsh expressed concerns relating to electro-magnetic fields that would be generated by electric lines near his property.

Civil Defense

The board met with the newly appointed Civil Defense Director, Robert Beausoleil, who was present to discuss his proposed budget request for a department that has not been active since 1988. He asked for $2850 to cover training costs for members he is recruiting to act as auxiliary police. The board approved the budget.

Stokowski supported the request for monies to train individuals at a Civil Defense school in Spencer.

Gas Tanks

Chase said no soil contamination was evident at the site of the Town highway barn where gas tanks were pulled. One new tank is in place with two others due.

Chase also said that the police and highway departments are purchasing their gas at the Shell Station because it is open 24 hours a day.

Lachance took issue with that arrangement, saying he would expect the town would do business with gas station owners who have lived and worked in town for many years.

Chase said other departments are purchasing gas at downtown locations.

Cemetery

Lachance raised an issue concerning developing additional cemetery lots at Central Cemetery. He called for the board to meet with the Cemetery Commissioners and the Conversation Commission to iron out concerns relating to a floodplain area. Lachance said using the area on the northside of the present cemetery would compliment and finish off the cemetery as well as supplying additional burial lots.

Cristo said the town would have to deal with the Army Corps of Engineers since the land in question is in a designated floodplain.

Lachance said the floodplain designation was made prior to a flood control project in Worcester and Auburn that supplied flooding relief.

Grafton Street Sidewalk

Cristo recognized Raymond Rogers of Grafton Street who presented a petition to extend a sidewalk on Grafton Street to Paul Revere Village or the Millbury-Grafton town line. Rogers expressed concern with speeding on the street. He also noted an increase in babies in the area which brings an increase in parents wanting to walk their babies. He said many parents are afraid to walk along Grafton Street while those that do usually end up walking on people's lawns to avoid the traffic.

A resident of Momin Drive, part of Westview Village, a new subdivision off Grafton Street, said a rise in the road creates a visibility hazard for cars and a danger to people walking and driving out of the subdivision. He suggested that speed limits signs be installed and radar be used.

Another resident maintained that the police do not want to sit and use radar even at the invitation to use private driveways to park.

Cristo said the townspeople will have the final say on a sidewalk at the annual town meeting. Chase was asked to get estimated costs for the project.

Miscellaneous

- The board met with a representative of Guaranteed Builders who was present to seek a drainlayer's license for the first time. After reviewing documents, the board unanimously approved the license.

- The board met with Frank Todisco, the new owner of the Shell Station at the intersection of Rtes. 122A and 146. The board unanimoulsy approved his application for a common victualer's license.

- The board unanimously accepted the written resignation of Mary Brodeur from the Millbury Housing Partnership because of her desire to purchase housing under the Partnership's Salo Heights program off Elmwood Terrace. Brodeur told the board she wanted to avoid a conflict of interest.

- Chase reported that additional information from the Paul Revere Village Condominium Association is needed before anything can be done to enforce parking there.

- Lachance again raised concerns with the appearance of the building at 19 North Main Street, calling it a piece of "mouldy cheese." Chase said nothing could be done as the building is still under bankruptcy proceedings. He also noted that a lien for back taxes has been placed on the property.

- A letter from Wheelabrator indicated that the host fee for Millbury has gone up to $1.88 per ton. Cristo said it was a 10 or 20 cent per ton increase over the previous fee. Cristo asked Chase to check with the board of health on the final figure on unused tonnage.

- Hallamore Movers will be transporting a transformer weighing some 177 tons from River Street to Cross Street sometime during the next two weeks. Chase said Shaughnessy movers has also notified the town that they will be moving transformers from River Street down South Main Street on January 20 and 27.

- A letter from Safety Officer Ron Richard was read but no action was taken on his recommendations. Richard recommended that traffic control lights be installed "as soon as possible" at the intersection of Riverlin and Grafton Streets. He also recommended that a "No Parking" sign in front of 95 Elm Street be changed to "Passenger Loading and Unloading" and "No Vehicles left unattended."

Cristo said Richard's recommendation for another additional handicapped parking space in front of Fallon Clinic on Elm Street could be covered when Fallon paves the back parking lot.

Committee Meets Behind Closed Doors

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The school committee's January 16 meeting was mainly taken up with an executive session that related to an alleged failure on the part of high school teacher William Rosen to abide by the school department's policy on homework and grading. Greg Pojani, a parent of a student in one of Rosen's classes and husband of School Committee member Jane Pojani, complained to the committee that Rosen did not follow the Committee's policy during the first marking period of his advanced math class.

Committee Chairman Chet Hanratty entertained a motion to go into executive session after Rosen agreed that would be his preference.

The press challenged Hanratty's use of Exception 1 as a reason for executive session as it pertains to discussions on the reputation, character, physical condition or mental health of an individual.

Hanratty then cited exception 2 as a basis for the executive session, which states, "to consider the discipline or dismissal of or to hear complaints or charges brought against a public officer, employee...provided that the individual is notified in writing by the governmental body (in this case the School Committee) at least 48 hours in advance prior to the proposed executive session."

The press challenged the use of this exception also since Rosen was not notified in writing by the School Committee 48 hours in advance.

Hanratty ruled that the challenge offered by the press was invalid. He said Rosen had been notified in writing 48 hours in advance and that he had been advised he could have a representative with him who could advise him but not address the body or participate in the discussion.

The only documentation provided to the press on the notification to Rosen was a letter to him from Superintendent Alfred Sylvia, who is not the "governmental body" empowered to notify Rosen.

Hanratty was asked by Millbury resident Ronald Stead if the procedures for hearing complaints had changed from a year and a half ago. At that time, Stead had complained that a meeting was held in open session when the teacher involved was not present and not notified in writing.

Hanratty turned to Superintendent Alfred Sylvia for a reply. Sylvia said he could not recall if written notification was sent to the teacher. He said the matter will be researched to see if a letter was sent.

Hanratty was then asked if a legal opinion was sought on the appropriateness of holding the discussion with Rosen in executive session.

Sylvia responded that he spoke with Assistant District Attorney Leon Zitowitz who "advised and informed him" by telephone that Rosen could have the discussion either in executive or open session. When asked what exception Zitowitz advised him to use, Sylvia replied Chapter 39/23B, which contains eight exceptions. Sylvia would not state which exception he was using.

In a folllow up telephone conversation with Zitowitz, he said he does not advise or interpret the law but usually refers a caller to a local attorney or town counsel for an opinion.

Sylvia confirmed that Zitowitz did say that a local attorney or town counsel should be consulted for an opinion but he (Sylvia) stands by his statement that Zitowitz did advise him.

Zitowitz said he read the law to Sylvia and that it was Sylvia's own interpretation of the law. He said he reads the law to anyone seeking such a request and they can interpret the law the way they want to, that is why he tells callers to call their own counsel.

Sylvia provided several documents to the Chronicle concerning the issue.

A letter from Sylvia to Greg Pojani reads, in part, "I have spoken with Attorney Leon Zitowitz of the District Attorney's office," the letter read, "who is the expert in the open meeting law, and he advises me that under Chapter 39, Section 23B that Mr. Rosen could either have the discussion of your agenda item in executive session or public session."

The committee voted 4-0 to go into executive session, with Jane Pojani abstaining.

Committeeman Ed Wilczynski said prior to the vote that he was going to vote for executive session based on the advice of Zitowitz.

Attending the executive session were the school committee, Rosen, Murray, and Greg and Jane Pojani. The committee was in closed session for 35 minutes. Rosen, Murray and the Pojanis then left the closed meeting while the committee, along with Sylvia, discussed the issue for another 20 minutes.

In conversation with the Pojanis the next day, Jane Pojani said her husband had asked Sylvia for a legal opinion on the request for executive session from Austin Broadhurst, the school committee's legal counsel. He said Sylvia turned down his request, indicating it was a black and white issue.

Jane Pojani said her request for advice from Broadhurst, as a member of the School Committee, was also turned down by Sylvia as he informed her that she was only one of five members on the committee. Pojani said she asked Sylvia to check with Hanratty to see if he would poll the rest of the committee. She said she found out later that Hanratty ruled otherwise.

When asked if he did in fact deny Pojani's request, Hanratty replied that he instructed Sylvia to speak to the District Attorney's office for an opinion because he assumed the Chronicle would challenge the executive session.

Following the closed session, the committee took no action on the Pojani's request for grade changes since no motion was forthcoming from the committee.

Rosen did not accept the Chronicle's request for an interview.

Hanratty then asked that the remaining items be deferred or shortened to allow the committee to adjourn to listen to President Bush's address to the nation.

Appointments

The Committee made the following appointments:

- Nick DiCarlo, JV Baseball coach. It was noted that Butch Flamand did not want to apply for the position.
- Lori Cadorette, early childhood teacher aide. She will be paid from an Early Childhood grant.
- Sylvia asked the committee to send a letter of commendation to Roger Desrosiers for the excellent job he and his history class did in

According to Spence, basically the committee is looking at last year's budget and increasing a half time position to full time at a $7-8,000 difference for that position. He also noted that a maintenance/groundskeeper position approved last year but not funded has been put into this budget along with a proposal to increase the use of the half-time music position.

Spence said the administration is looking at another way for increasing the cost effectiveness of certain SPED programs.

"It's up to you to lead," Spence said, "to tell the people what is needed. You can't always wait for input from others. It's your responsibility. If you believe certain programs are needed, you should say it."

Commercial TV

Spence introduced an item pertaining to a proposal from Whittle Communications of Tennessee which would place free video monitor equipment in each classroom to provide a daily news program, with advertisements, that is geared toward teens.

Roach expressed some reservations about the commercial aspects of the program as she was not sure what would be gained by adding to all the commercial advertisements already in the schools.

There was no further discussion on the issue.

Miscellaneous

- PTA President Mary DeVincent informed the committee that the PTA will sponsor a seminar for parents on how to save money for a college education.

- The asbestos abatement project costs will be funded by a transfer of funds.

- Spence recommended that Kathy Romasco be appointed to receive a Horace Mann Grant totalling $5328 for a video on the Town of Sutton.

- Spence reported that because of new state regulations, the water in the schools will be tested monthly. Samples will be sent to a lab in West Boylston.

- A letter from the Board of Selectmen asked that the school committee appoint two of its members to serve on a town-wide task force to study the financial condition of the town. Anderson and Bacon offered to serve.

- Roach and Spence agreed to serve on the Town's Master Plan Study Committee as representatives of the school system.

- A request from a staff member seeking a salary adjustment related to a horizontal move on the salary schedule was deferred to the subcommittee on budget and personnel.

- Bacon said everyone involved in the music programs at Christmas should be commended for their performances.

- Bacon noted that Eileen Lombardi has been commended by the Governor's Alliance Against Drugs for her efforts in the area of drug education and prevention.

- The committee agreed to send a letter to Representative Richard Moore and Senator Matthew Amorello indicating its opposition to pending legislation that would allow for town meeting scrutiny and approval of line items in the school department budget.

Bacon Named Good Sports Semifinalist

MILLBURY - Millbury High School senior Barry Bacon has been selected as one of 10 semifinalists in the Good Sports Award Program sponsored by the Boston Garden, ITT Sheraton Corporation and Anheuser-Bush.

Each school in Central and Eastern Massachusetts nominated two students who constantly display good sportsmanship on and off the field. Eric Nielsen was Millbury's other nominee.

For being selected, Bacon and two guests were invited to attend the Boston Celtics game on January 18. Before the game, Bacon was scheduled to be presented with a Boston Celtics jacket and a certificate. Barry is now eligible to be selected for a $3,000 scholarship.

Sleigh Rally in Sutton

SUTTON - Bring the entire family to the Waters Farm Horseman's Association's Sleigh Rally at Waters Farm, Waters Road, on January 27, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The following will be featured: parade of sleighs; sleigh rides; toasted marshmallows on the bonfire; classes for horses, ponies, mules and donkeys; hot food and drink at the Farm's Carriage Shed; awards for all in the children's decorated sled contest. Educational displays and mementos of the day will be available in the Farmhouse.

This event will be cancelled only if the fields are too muddy to support parking. If there is no snow, a carriage rally will be held. For more information contact Joy Nydam at 865-1730.

Soliciting Volunteers

MILLBURY - The Board of Selectmen is soliciting volunteers to serve on the Town's Youth Commission. If anyone is interested, contact the Selectmen's office at 8675-4710, Monday through Friday, 9-4.

OH! For a Book, and a cozy nook
And oh! for a quiet hour
When care and strife and worry of life,
Have lost their dreaded power. - Anonymous

Find a cozy chair to curl up in, bring to it a piping hot cup of tea or chocolate, a sweet thing or two, and don't forget a good book to get lost in. These are the images that warm a New England winter day.

This winter the Friends of the Millbury Public Library help to complete this picture with books from their semi-annual Book and Bake Sale on January 26. This sale, taking place on the ground level of the library, runs from 9 until noon.

Browse through hundreds of fiction and non-fiction selections in both paperback and hardcover. You'll also find a large selection of children's books to select from. With bargain prices that run 50 cents for hardcover books and 25 cents for paperbacks, you'll be able to pick up enough books to bring you through the rest of winter's long months. Get there early for the best picks.

Before you step out into the winter chill, don't forget to pick up a home baked dessert for your weekend dinner table. If you can't wait, sweet tooth fare and piping hot coffee and tea will be available.

The Friends of the Millbury Public Library is a membership organization. To be a contributing member, dues are only $2 a year for a single and $5 for family memberships. Organizations can support the library with a small $25 contribution. Proceeds from this book and bake sale and annual memberships provide the library with supplemental funds for a variety of purposes, such as children's summer reading programs, print and nonprint materials, guest lectures, art exhibits and more.

Most of the books in this and other Friends' Book and Bake sales are from individual donations. out bake sale table is also stocked with donations. Your baked goods and book donations are welcome and greatly appreciated.

For more information about this and other friends volunteer and fund raising activities, call the library at 865-1181. Library Hours: Tuesday through Thursday, 10-8; Friday, 10-6; Saturday, 10-1.

Movie at Library

MILLBURY - On Saturday, February 2, at 10:30 a.m., the Millbury PUblic Library, 128 Elm Street will start its February Flicks with Pizza program. Each Saturday during February, from 10:30 to noon, the library will present a popular children's feature length movie. The first will be Babar: The Movie. Children may register Tuesday through Friday before each showing. Registration must be in person. There will be a $1.25 charge for the pizza and beverage served at intermission. This program is sponsored by the Friends of the Millbury Public Library.

Community Photography Exhibit

MILLBURY - From January 31 to February 9, the Millbury Public Library, 128 Elm Street, will feature its juried Community Photography Exhibit "Year of the Life Time Reader" featuring the works of photographers in Millbury and surrounding towns. The first place photographers in both the adult and youth divisions in this exhibit will compete in a national photo contest sponsored by the American Library Association, Center for the Book in the Library of Congress, and World Book.

Selected to Play

Five players from Sutton recently were selected to play for Soccer Scene F.C., a club which fields teams to compete at the highest level of youth soccer. The five were chosen from nearly 300 players who attended the club's tryouts from over 40 Central Massachusetts communities.

For the 1991 spring season, teams in the 1980, 1979, 1978 and 1977 boys age groups were selected by Soccer Scene F.C. evaluators and coaches. In addition, an under-17 and under-19 squad will join the club.

Local players selected include Aaron Armer, Joseph Benoit, Billy Benoit, Mark Faron, and Matthew Faron, all of Sutton.

Soccer Scene teams play in the N.C.C.L. (National Challenge Cup League) for a league title, the youth state championship, and eligibility for the eastern U.S. regional championship in July. Soccer Scene teams will also compete in tournaments in Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and other states this spring.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

We are at WAR. Last week, we held several prayer services and prayed for peace and also for those men and women from our community who are "over there." This raises several questions that I would like to address in my own stumbling way.

First of all, why war? "What is causing the quarrels and fights among you? Isn't it because there is a whole army of evil desires within you? You want what you don't have, so you kill to get it...." James 4:1,2 ff. The Bible is full of war because it is a realistic book not just idealistic. There is evil in the world and it has to be stopped. Lincoln Barton Sr. fights the evil in our own community thru our local police department while his son fights it "over there." God bless them both.

Then there is the question of unanswered prayer or seemingly unanswered prayer. Where is God in all this? We prayed for peace and got war, or some of our prayers were for peace, but we also were realistic enough to pray for the welfare of our service personnel knowing that war was still a distinct probability.

"He (and she) that comes to god must believe that He is." We must believe that there is a God and that in His way He is working out His purposes. His ways are not our ways, and therein lies the mystery of our God. Ronald Reagan would take an atheist out to dinner and then ask him, "Do you believe there is a cook." Yes, there is a cook and a God who still loves us. Amen.

Completes Course in Cataloging

SUTTON - Joanne Donnelly of the Sutton Public Library recently completed a four-week course entitled, "Introduction to Cataloging." Precise and accurate cataloging ensures that library users will find the exact items they need.

Training in basic library techniques is required of library directors in towns of under 10,000 by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners in order for the library to be eligible for the Library Incentive Grant, the Municipal Equalization Grant and other grant support. "Introduction to Cataloging" is one of five courses offered by the Central Massachusetts Regional Library System to enable library staff to fulfill that requirement.

Sutton will be taking part in a "Planning Process for Small Public Libraries," a program designed to evaluate services needed and/or provided by them. "Library User Survey" sheets will be available at the Center and Manchaug Branch libraries. Residents are asked to pick up and complete one of these sheets during the next two weeks in order for their ideas to be incorporated into the library's goals and objectives.

A new resource available at the library is the quarterly journal of the Massachusetts Municipal Association entitled "Municipal Advocate", which discusses issues facing towns and cities today, including finance, the effect of state laws and mandates, new technologies and management innovations. The impact of the state's fiscal crisis on town budgets and taxes and local government solutions are fully discussed. The Municipal Association, a nonprofit group of 349 of the state's 351 cities and towns, is donating a subscription to the library.

Who's Who at Bryant

SMITHFIELD, RI - The 1991 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" includes one graduate student from Millbury. Ernest Oliver, of 36 Lexington Road, was selected as a national outstanding campus leader. Students were selected based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Students Visit Boston

SUTTON - On January 24, the advanced band of the Sutton Public Schools took a field trip to the city of Boston. The students spent the morning observing an open rehearsal of the Boston Symphony. Later, students visited the School of Music at Boston University where they were conducted through a rehearsal by the director of the University Wind Ensemble, Eric Rombach, and coached by members of the ensemble. Students then observed a rehearsal.

Women's Bowling League on a Roll

The League had a super week. Five rolled over 300; eleven rolled 100 or better; and a team effort saw two strings of over 500 rolled by MG's, a 501 and a 519.

Breaking the third high triple and third high single spots was Marge McArdle. She rolled a 336 with strings of 128-110-98. Her 128 was the high single.

The other four who rolled over 300 were: Gail Higginbottom, a 330 with strings of 106-108-115; Ellen Bouvier, a 315 with strings of 113-92-110; Marion Hamilton, a 312 with strings of 108-99-105; and Pat Gaspar, a 312 with strings of 96-115-101.

Rolling 100 and over were: Gail Higginbottom, 115-109-106; Marge McArdle, 128-110; Pat Gaspar, 115-101; Ellen Bouvier, 113-110; Marion Hamilton, 108-105; Dot Jacques, 106; Mary Jo Boire, 105; Alene Saxby, 105; Lois White, 105; Ellie Gosselin, 104; and Bobbee Bernard, 101.

Committee to Discuss Use of School Facilities

By Edward J. Cooney

SUTTON - The January 14 School Committee meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. did not get on track until 7:30 p.m. as the Budget Subcommittee was meeting with the Finance Committee (FinCom).

Superintendent Gordon Spence said the school department budget for this year is tight, but with the proper restraints he felt the school department could get through the year without going over budget. Unexpected expenses in Special Education (SPED) have put a squeeze on the budget.

Recycling Program

Spence reported briefly on a proposed in-school recycling program. BFI has proposed a program of recycling white and colored paper in separate containers in the classrooms, which will be trucked away by the hauler at no cost. Committee members unanimously approved the program.

Police Department Proposal

High School Principal Ed Grant reported on a program developed by Police Chief William Baker which would involve Sutton Police officers holding discussions with students through a series of 10 class meetings in the Social Studies Department. The program will start next year.

Use of School Facilities

The committee began preliminary discussions on the use of school buildings and outside facilities by various groups and organizations.

Spence suggested the committee consider the establishment of a subcommittee to review present policies, fees, and charges as they have not been updated for some years. The composition of the subcommittee would include a representative of the elementary administration, secondary administration, staff, the head custodian, athletic director, coaches' representative and anyone else the committee may wish to include.

Committeewoman Sue Horne agreed that this is the time to take a look at the use of facilities as there could be problems in the future relating to use of the various playing fields as well as the use of buildings by groups outside as well as inside the town.

Spence said the committee should become aware as to how the facilities are presently being used and look to possibly changing the fee schedules. He said it would possibly affect the fees charged to the Performing Arts school and other groups such as dance schools that have in the past utilized the schools for performances.

Elementary Principal Beverly Brown raised a question concerning the French River School Collaborative's request for use of the school facilities next month and whether their request would be affected by any change in fees or charges. Spence suggested they be allowed to use the facilities for this one time, subject to review and charges for any future use of the facilities. The committee consensus was to allow the request for this one time.

The board voted unanimously to establish a subcommittee. Roach and Horne agreed to serve on the subcommittee. Athletic Director Filipkowski accepted the temporary chairmanship.

Spence and Grant reported that the baseball field will not be ready for use by the school for this year's playing season. Grant said he is working with Douglas to gain use of a baseball field for practice with games being scheduled away for this year.

School Calendar

Spence introduced another agenda item concerning the consideration of a school calendar for the 1991-92 school year. The calendar showed a starting date in August.

Bacon and Roach both noted that parents and people in town have expressed interest in starting school after Labor Day.

Spence said that whatever the school committee decides would be fine with him.

The committee took the matter under advisement.

Air Conditioning

Spence informed the committee that he is seeking a 3rd bid for the service contract for air conditioning as now required under new laws for bids. He said the committee may want to look toward a company closer to Sutton than the present contract holder, Precision Air of Boston, who has provided satisfactory work in the past. He said that Bafara Inc. of Worcester did some work recently that was satisfactory and cheaper.

Budgets

The committee briefly reviewed the FY '91 and FY '92 budgets. Spence suggested that in reviewing the preliminary FY'92 budget the committee could prioritize which programs are more essential, add to the budget, take things out of the budget or do nothing. "Those are your options," he said. "You should prioritize in case you have to eliminate something." The preliminary budget totals $4,814,000 with 75% of that total encumbered for salaries under contracts.

Bacon asked the committee for their feelings on the possibility of an FY '91 shortfall. The committee has the option to absorb the potential shortfall with continuing budget restraints or go for additional funds at a special town meeting.

Roach said that if the committee should absorb the shortfall she was not sure the town would remember that in the future.

Spence said that the override vote last year was a vote of confidence and that the town does appreciate the efforts the school committee has made.

Glenn Anderson said, based upon tonight's subcommittee meeting with FinCom, that the present members of FinCom have shown the most support for the school department that he has seen in the past 11 years.

Roach noted that FinCom only received a copy of the budget proposal tonight and could come back again with a different viewpoint.

Spence said FinCom couldn't help the school committee this year with a $42,000 transfer created by a shortfall from increased SPED spending because of unexpected expenses. "The town dos not have the money and the only way to get it is to go to a special town meeting," he said.

Roach said it would be difficult to go for a special town meeting with economic conditions what they are.

Spence said the committee will have to use every possible way to save money as he does not see the state's financial situation improving until 1993.

Bacon sid the committee will have to look at programs next year as the committee could be looking at large cuts.

setting up a program honoring Millbury servicemen serving in the Middle East.

Pease asked if a video could be given to each family that received a plaque during the ceremony. He said he would be willing to pay for the videos out of his own pocket if need be.

Pojani asked why the entire student body was not present at the ceremony. She said the gym could have been used if more space was needed.

Sylvia said it was his understanding that it was up to the teachers to decide who would attend.

- Sylvia announced that Barry Bacon was awarded the Good Sports Award by the Boston Celtics. Athletic Director Dave Wilbur said it is the first time the award has been given outside the Rte. 128 area.
- Pojani asked the committee to send a letter of congratulations to Coach Ron Dunham for his 200th win as a coach in basketball.

The meeting adjourned at 8:56 p.m.
